Subject: Thank You, One Misys!

Today, the [redacted] Education department will deliver the first in a series of web conferences providing GUI Laboratory v6.1 client training! Classroom seminars for clients are also scheduled and a series of self-paced Laboratory v6.1 courses are now available in both the iMentor LMS and the Employee LMS.

The design, development, and delivery of this training would not have been possible without the efforts of [redacted] team members from a number of different departments.

These departments include: Client Support, Engineering Services, Implementation, Product Management, Software Development, and Technical Publications.

[redacted] Education thanks everyone who played a part in the design, development, and delivery of this training! We could not have done this without all of you!

Go One [redacted]!
